Greetings to all

It is my pleasure to continue as Editor for our quarterly journal. I profusely thankful to all the office bearers and the house by extending an opportunity to edit the journal again. I would like to share some of the important points with you all. We published last journal just before serious COVID-19. This pandemic disease made every one of us so serious that whether we will meet again or not, but God is great that every one of us cheered up for the betterment of senior teachers fraternity. We observed a lot of enthusiasm in every teacher in the conference. Dr.SS. Chauhan, Prof.JN.Shukla and their team have made us happy to remember the sweetness of the conference for long.

This time also we were planning to print the journal and send to reach every life member, but last time so many books returned without proper address. This was a painful experience for me because journal did not reach every one. However we received lot of appreciations from the members. Hence I request all the office bearers to make reachable postal address and forward the same to me or our Gen.Secretary through e-mail.

I earnestly request all our members send through e-mail if they have any important Govt. orders, Judgements if any, to publish these orders... in our website, where this information may be useful to anyone.

If everything goes well we definitely print the journal and send the same through post. Kindly cooperate in this regard. Let us go with one profession-one pension.

PREFACE

It is a matter of deep satisfaction and immense delight that the 'All India Federation of Retired University and College Teachers' Organisation' (AIFRUCTO) is all set to publish its quarterly news magazine again after a long interval. The long interval was witness to an unprecedented reign of mental fear and socio-economic disruption due to the global pandemic COVID-19. So, at Lucknow during the 3rd statutory conference of our Organisation, we decided to publish the magazine in digital form. This is an attempt to provide a platform to all stake-holders to discuss and deliberate on different pressing issues concerning retired University and College teachers. We are aware of the fact that people from different intellectual stream and social backgrounds are members of the Organisation. Not only this, they have different intellectual approaches to a single issue. I hope the Magazine provides them all a good platform to share their ideas.

The news magazine will include the news of all India level activities of the Federation as well as news-items from different state. We have also tried to include an article on post retirement life by an eminent psychologist of Ahmedabad and a biographical article on a great teacher, philosopher and statesman Dr. S Radhakrishnan.

As senior citizens we have been witness to great change in social, economic, educational and cultural fields of human life. As we advance into the 21st century, we are destined to see unforeseen and unparalleled changes brought in by big data, machine-learning and artificial intelligence, the three big words from the tech-world. The changes are so rapid that many times it appears to be beyond human intelligence. We as people with requisite intellectual sobriety and wisdom are required to give soothing touches to the strained nerves of our society. I hope the magazine will provide a good platform to set the right discourse in motion through your co-operation. So we will try to also include some informative and useful articles which may play a transformative role for retired teachers.

As Pandit Jawahar Lal Nehru, the first Prime Minister of Independent India, said, "We can give you power but not wisdom", we will try to let noble thoughts come from all sides (आनो भद्राः क्रतवो यन्तु विश्वतः). So that we can have both power and wisdom.

I express my thanks to Dr. Halesh.R, Editor of News Magazine, under his visionary, inspiring and dynamic leadership this magazine is destined to emerge as an asset to the federation. On this occasion I wish to reiterate our unwavering support for the successful publication of the magazine.

I wish every success for our news bulletin.

3rd Statutory Conference of All India Federation of Retired Teachers' Organization at Lucknow

Prof.JN Shukla

Gen.Secretary

University College Retired Teachers' Welfare Association, Uttar Pradesh hosted the 3rd Statutory Conference of AIFRUCTO on 25th and 26th June 2022 at Lucknow. Delegates from Manipur, West Bengal, Odisha, Bihar, Uttar Pradesh, Haryana, Maharashtra, Telangana, Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka, Gujarat, and Tamil Nadu participated in the conference. Delegates from Meghalaya, Assam and Jharkhand couldn't attend the conference due to excessive rain and flood in their states.

On 25th June, the National Secretariat and National Executive Committee meetings were organized which were presided over by Prof Ram Singh, the President, and conducted by Prof B Parthasarathy General Secretary of AIFRUCTO. Various matters like the general secretary's report, treasurer's report, constitution committee report, report for a committee for framing the financial rules, medical committee report and election of the new executive committee were mainly discussed and the agenda for the general council meeting was finalized.

INAUGURAL SESSION

The inaugural session started with Goddess Saraswati Vandana. The session was presided over by Prof. S.S. Chauhan, President, and UCRTWA. Prof. Chauhan, in his welcome address extended warm welcome to the guests, delegates, participants and the media. He thanked the AIFRUCTO to accept the invitation from UCRTWA to hold the Third Statutory Conference of AIFRUCTO at Lucknow, the city of culture, poetry & literature. He briefly narrated the roles being played by UCRTWA for the welfare of retired teachers & also strong association with teachers' movements at the national level. Prof. J.N. Shukla, the General Secretary addressed the Conference participants highlighting the great tradition of Lucknow hospitality & the cultural heritage. Prof. Asok Barman, former general secretary of AIFUCTO & patron of AIFRUCTO presented the Keynote address. Prof. Barman talked about four major areas to be focused in the Conference & also in the days to come. These are

- 1) Our professional demands, problems & progress with a proper movement program;
- 2) The pandemic impacting our life with special reference to the education at all stages. There have been huge knowledge deficits due to the pandemic;
- 3) The lessons of pandemic are many. He highlighted the importance of society & technology. We have learnt that only a close cooperation among people and the proper utilization of technology can help us to combat such catastrophes. The digital world has changed everything & we must leverage this progress through cooperation among us;
- 4) The commitment to society. We are the beneficiaries of state support & we must offer our services to the society by helping those who need it most.

As responsible members we should help the needy ones. He referred to United Nations ONLINE VOLUNTEER program and requested teachers to extend all helps to cover the knowledge deficits. Prof. Arun Kumar, General Secretary, AIFUCTO congratulated the conference. In his speech, Prof. Arun Kumar highlighted various problems of teachers in the higher education sector. In view of the wrong education policies adopted by the Govt. of India & nonfulfillment of long-standing demands, the AIFUCTO has decided to launch protest movement. As a part of that, a massive rally would be organized during the Monsoon Session of Parliament on 3rd August 2022. He demanded immediate redressal of outstanding grievances of teachers & holding fruitful consultations with teachers' organizations on the New Education Policy. He gave a call to launch a united teachers' movement against all wrong policies of the Government. Prof. Thokchom Meinya, Former Education Minister of Manipur & a former Member of Parliament was the Chief Guest. In his address, he highlighted the paramount importance of quality education for the progress of India and the empowerment of the student community. Prof. Meinya talked about the evolution of education policies in India in the past when detailed discussions took place in the Parliament. He stressed the need for quality education for all & an appropriate education policy to implement it. Prof. Meinya expressed his frustration that the new education policy adopted by Govt. of India was not discussed and placed before the Parliament for a thorough discussion. Given the importance of the education policy a threadbare discussion in Parliament was very much necessary. The Organizing Committee honoured retired teachers who attained the age of eighty years & Prof. Meinya felicitated them with shawl, flower bouquet & memento. The program was compared by Prof. Ajani Kumar with sweet couplets enthralling the audience. He created a poetic ambience with charming poetries while announcing.

General Council Meeting

Prof Ram Singh, the President of AIFRUCTO, presided over the general council meeting. In his presidential address he mentioned the tradition, culture and hospitality of Lucknow. He greeted the leaders of the organizations who were attending the 3rd Statutory Conference being held in Lucknow. General Secretary Prof B Parthasarathy presented his report before the house. Since he circulated the report beforehand, he did not read out completely. He highlighted only the important points of the report. His report was thoroughly discussed and approved by the house. Afterwards Prof J N Shukla, Treasurer presented the financial picture before the house and put the audited account for the last three years for the approval which was approved by the general council. A Sub-Committee report on financial rules was also presented by Prof. Shukla which was also approved by the house unanimously. Prof Sadanand Bhattacharjya, the National Secretary and Convener of the Constitution Committee presented the amended constitution of AIFRUCTO with all modifications and suggestions as given in NEC meeting at Solapur which was also placed in the Secretariat and NEC meeting at Lucknow on June 25, 2022. The constitution was approved in toto with an amendment to increase the post of National Secretaries from 10 to 11 to include one-woman National Secretary. This amendment was approved unanimously.

Another subcommittee report for Medical Benefits was presented by Prof S A Bojagar National Secretary of AIFRUCTO before the house.

Movement Resolution

1. Resolved to request the Government of India to formulate a "Medical Scheme" for the university and College retired teachers. This will help them to get lifesaving treatments in old age.
2. Resolved to request the Govt. of India to implement a uniform pension scheme to all the retired University and College teachers in all the states and Union Territories. There are still some states where pension is not being paid to University and College teachers. For instance, Punjab, Himanchal Pradesh and in some North Eastern States like Manipur, Meghalaya do not pay any form of pension to the retired aided college teachers.
3. Resolved to request the Govt. of India to implement the 7th UGC scales of pay and pension based on the concordance table without any modification to all retired University and College teachers in all States and Union Territories.
4. Resolved to request the Govt. of India to get some sort of relief for all pensioners in the payment of Income Tax. Either the rates of slabs of Income Tax should be modified or the ceiling amount in each of income should be increased. Though pension increases for the granting of additional dearness relief, this increase in pension is taken away by the increased income tax that the pensioners pay. Thus, the pensioners ultimately get the marginal benefit in the increase in pension for additional DR. Therefore, the senior citizens who pay regularly through the "Tax Deducted at Source" (TDS) or the self -assessment should get relief in the payment of income tax.
5. National Education Policy 2020
Request the Govt. of India not to implement National Educational Policy 2020 until the provisions in the policy are discussed in various academic forums by academicians and experts and submit their suggestions to the Govt. of India. We fear that the New Education Policy may lead to privatizations of Higher Education which will ultimately result in commercialization of Higher Education.

ELECTION OF THE OFFICE BEARERS

The Election Committee was constituted by the General Council for holding the election of new office bearers for next three years.

1. Prof Asok K Barman, Convener
2. Dr Ghanshyam Singh, Co convener
3. Prof S K Agnihotri, Co convener

All the office bearers were elected unanimously with the exception of one post of Vice President (women). After the voting Prof Parvathi Gopalan was declared elected by Prof Asok Barman the Convener of Election Committee.

Munger University Retired Teachers Association Munger (Bihar)

Munger University is one of the youngest University of Bihar state, established in March 2018, in the historical city of Munger which was earlier known as Anga associated with Raja KARNA, and later was the capital of Mir Kasim in modern times.

The University is presently functioning from R D & D J College, Munger campus before shifting to its permanent address.

At present, it has 17 Constituent College, B. Ed Colleges and Affiliated colleges.

The 2nd Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Shyama Rai is doing her best to give shape & direction to the nascent University.

Separate Pension section is yet to be established in the University , so the 'Pension Affairs' is attached with General section for whom 'paying pension & other dues of Pensioner is not in priority list'

And this is a serious issue which needs to be highlighted.

MUMBAI - UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGE RETIRED TEACHERS' WELFARE ASSOCIATION (M-UCRTWA)

After a long gap, as most of the Covid-19 restrictions have now been relaxed, organizing in person meetings has now become possible. MUMBAI - UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGE RETIRED TEACHERS' WELFARE ASSOCIATION (M-UCRTWA) has once again started its activities with new vigour and strength.

The Vth AGM of M-UCRTWA, for the year April 2021 - March 2022, was held on Wednesday, 28th September, 2022, at ICSSR Conference Hall, J. P. Naik Bhavan, Kalina Campus. The members unanimously accepted the Executive Committee decision to honor Prof. B. Parthasarathi (Former General Secretary AIFRUCTO) and Prof. K. K. Theckedath (Former President AIFCUTO) as Patrons of M-UCRTWA. Pension issues in the matters of pre-2006 teacher retirees, 1.1.2006 - 26.2.2009 teacher retirees, those teachers who retired on 30th June and at stagnation in pay scale, were discussed in detail. The recent nationwide trend towards rampant Privatization of Educational Courses and Institutions was also discussed at length. The members also resolved to intensify M-UCRTWA's participation in the programmes organized by the AIFRUCTO.

Of late, M-UCRTWA has been keenly pursuing individual teacher's pension related matters also. It has been observed that sometimes due to trivial matters teachers are deprived of their rightful post-retirement benefits. Such cases need appropriate actions to resolve the matter. Autonomous colleges, in particular, do not cooperate with retired teachers. Cases of missing important documents have also been reported. In the absence of M-UCRTWA, such teachers had no access to any forum from where they could seek guidance and justice. M-UCRTWA is now successfully filling this gap.

Joint Secretary, M-UCRTWA

Representations pending in the State Govt.:

1-Payment of one additional increment to teachers retiring on June 30, regarding the implementation of the judgement of Hon'ble Supreme Court in Union of India Vs. P. Ayyamperumal IA No. 98411/2019 Dated:08-08-2019.

2-Payment of additional pension from the first day of the calendar month in which it falls due and not from the of completion of 80 years of age.

3-We are demanding medical facilities to the retired teachers. At present there is no medical facility to the University and aided College teachers.

We are contesting in the Hon'ble High Court of U P for the payment of gratuity at the age of 62 years because U P Govt is paying gratuity only to those teachers who opt to retire at the age of 60 years.

REPORT OF WEST BENGAL COLLEGE AND UNIVERSITY RETIRED TEACHERS WELFARE ASSOCIATION.

The West Bengal Govt. has given the effect of enhanced pension from 1.1.2020 instead of 1.1.2016. We protested against it. During fixing of pension they simply multiplied by 2.57. Later on G.O clarified about minimum pension of 65,700. But both government officials and Universities authorities were reluctant to give effect.. Thus we started our peaceful program of confrontation in both the front. Ultimately with continuous intervention now the teachers are getting final effect. Though we have to go a long road ahead.

We haven't yet received 5.7 %arrear of 2006 pay scale. We are fighting for it.

We are getting only 3% DA leaving a gap of 35% with all India statistics. The fight is in the court where state government has been defeated hands down in all respect. Still they may move to Supreme court for ultimate show down. Let us hope good will and democracy will run one day.

The corruption, denying rights, exploitation of the honest , extortion of huge fortune at the cost of urge for survival is rampant from KG to PG teacher recruitment, syllabus framing, nomination to lucrative positions or created posts for sychophants are now headlines even in those newspapers who have not lost love for Gov.t revealed and proved the true condition of the situation. We strongly condemn all such evil methods of deprivation of merits and appeal strongly to recruit all of them. We also strongly demand that the vacant posts in all the college's and Universities be filled immediately for the sustenance of the education system through out the country.

We demand and support one post one pay one status and implementation of equal pension for all teachers. Specially for those states where our colleagues are not getting any pension.

Long live AIFRUCTO, AIFUCTO and WBCURTWA.

BANGALORE UNIVERSITY AND COLLEGE RETIRED TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

UGC teachers retired between 2006 and 2012 are getting a basic pension of Rs.69925/- and who are retired after 2012 getting a basic pension of Rs.75300/- with 3131% State DA, but Govt. is trying to reduce the basic pension who retired between April 2012 and 31.12.2015. However, the division bench has directed the Govt. not alter the basic pension. Large number of Teachers approached the Court to maintain the UGC regulations and recommendations by following the pension rule of 50% of the last pay drawn and continuing the emoluments which were getting at the time of their retirement. The Teachers' retired before 2006 are struggling to get their revised pension proposed by the UGC in VI pay commission. These senior most people are already put their demand the Court. We hope for the best. In the state of Karnataka number of retired UGC teachers organisations are functioning and they are still they are active in their unit level. We are happy to congratulate that Gulbarga University and College Retired teachers' Association is hosting a NEC meeting at Gulbarga (Kalburgi) to be held on Sunday the 11th December 2022. We hope all NEC members actively participate in the meeting.

GOVT. COLLEGE RETIRED TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION(GCRTA), AP

Problems:

- (1) Arrears of 7th pay Revision is pending from 2016, arrears are due for a period of over 50 months.
- (2) Medical allowance G.O. not yet issued. During the revision of the state pay scales the Medical allowance is enhanced from Rs. 300 to Rs. 500. Though G.O. in respect of State Govt. employees / pensioners is issued, the same has not been done for the UGC Pensioners so far. The State Govt. is collecting Rs. 300 under employees health scheme with a promise of rendering cashless treatment to the employees / pensioners, the same has not come in to force yet.
- (3) In Andhra Pradesh, the Additional Quantum of Pension (AQP) was extended to pensioners who have completed 75 years of age. And that AQP was 15% of basic. This was in vogue from 2010. In 2019 AQP benefit was extended to pensioners who have completed 70 years of age with an AQP of 10% of basic. During the state pay revision 2020 this benefit is denied to the UGC Pensioners where as the State Govt. Pensioners continue to enjoy the same, though at a reduced rate of 7% and 12% for 70 years and 75 years respectively. This is a substantial loss to the UGC Pensioners which needs redressal.
- (4) DR Arrears are pending since 2018.

Activities:

- (1) The Association is petitioning and attending the PENSION ADALATS whenever convened.
- (2) Issues are continuously being pursued with the concerned officials.

The Hon'ble Education Minister

Govt. of India

Shastri Bhavan, New Delhi

Sub: Representation regarding the grievances of retired University and College teachers.

Respected sir,

Greetings from the All India Federation of Retired University and College Teachers' Organizations (AIFRUCTO). Our federation is the only apex body that represents the all retired teachers' organizations of universities and colleges of India. The AIFRUCTO and the affiliates are engaged in rendering services to the retired teachers of all the states and union territories to ensure justified benefits to the retired teachers. Retired teachers are entitled to the uniform benefits.

There are some very urgent issues that need your kind attention. The resolving of the problems we noted below is very urgent. Also, it is indeed a sad commentary that retired university and college teachers are facing various problems in many states. Some of the problems are very detrimental to the retired teachers. All our members were appointed fulfilling the university grand Commission prescribed guidelines regarding qualifications and work for decades. However, we are disturbed that some states have not adopted proper retirement benefits including pensions for all retired teachers. In such states there are gross disparities between government teachers and state aided college teachers. Though all have been appointed by the same UGC guidelines and were getting UGC recommended pay scales, there exists gross disparities with regard to the retirement benefits. We seek your kind intervention to ensure justice to all teachers in Universities and Colleges. The principle followed regarding the determination of academic standard and maintenance of the same should also be applied to the retirement benefits.

We would like to add very briefly that apart from our professional issues, we are also serving the society in various forms. We actively contribute to the discussions and deliberations regarding appropriate education policies and the implementation of the same. We discuss various issues related to the education. Our members are also associated with many philanthropic programs and activities to help the first-generation students and also students suffering from financial problems.

The General Council meeting of the 3rd Statutory Conference of AIFRUCTO held on 26th June at Lucknow decided to present some more important issues for your kind attention and intervention.

1- Those teachers who have retired before 01-01-2016 with 03 years of service as associate professor or with 06 years of service as selection grade lecturer or with 22 years of service as lecturer should also be given option for pension revision in the professor scale as recommended by 7th UGC Pay Revision order.

2- We request the government of India to formulate a "Medical Scheme" for the University and College retired teachers. This will help them to get lifesaving treatment in the old age.

3-The AIFRUCTO request Govt, of India to implement a uniform pension scheme to all retired University and College teachers in all states and Union Territories. There are still some states where pension is not being paid to university and college retired teachers. For instance, Punjab, Himanchal Pradesh and in some North Eastern States like Manipur, Meghalaya do not pay any form of pension to the retired aided college teachers.

4-Our organization request Govt. Of India to implement the 7th U G C scales of pay and pension based on the concordance table without any modification to all retired University and College teachers in all States and Union territories.

5-We request Govt of India to get some sort of relief for all pensioners in the payment of Income Tax. Either the rates of slabs of Income Tax should be modified or the ceiling amount in each of income should be increased.

Though pension increases for granting of additional dearness relief, this increase is taken away by the increased income tax that the pensioners pay. Thus, the pensioners ultimately get the marginal benefit in the increase in pension for additional DR. Therefore, the senior citizens who pay regularly through the "Tax Deducted at Source" (TDS) or the self-assessment should get relief in the payment of income tax.

6-National Education Policy 2020

We request the Govt of India not to implement National Education Policy 2020 until the provisions in the policy are discussed in various academic forums by academicians and experts and submit their suggestions to the govt of India. We feel and afraid that New Education Policy may lead to privatization of Higher Education which will ultimately result in commercialization of Higher Education.

Dr.S. Radhakrishnan:The Philosopher-Statesman

By Prof. Gangotri Prasad Tripathi
Head, Dept. of English (Rtd.)
Kisan P G College, Baharaich, U P

To a question as to what should the students of independent India do, Dr Radhakrishnan quipped "study, study and study". This emphasis on education shows Dr Radhakrishnan's concern about India's future. He believed in the formative role of education which is the core of Indian understanding of education expressed in the dictum "सा विद्या या विमुक्तये" (Real education is that which liberates). Bhartiya Shiksha or Indian education must be formative more than informative, and cannot have for its end mere acquisition of knowledge. Its legitimate sphere is not only to develop natural talents but so to shape them as to enable them to absorb and express the permanent values of Bhartiya Vidya.

Dr Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan was a philosopher-statesman, an educationist, a teacher and an ambassador of Indian culture and tradition. He was nominated for the Nobel Prize for literature for five consecutive years from 1933 to 1937. He possessed exceptional interpretational qualities when it came to Indian culture. A man of many parts Dr Radhakrishnan was born on Sept 5, 1888, in a poor brahmin family at Thiruttani, a town now in Tiruvallur district of Tamilnadu, 84 kms to the Northwest of Chennai. His mother tongue was Telugu. His father Sarvapalli Veeraswami and mother Sitamma were deeply religious but short on resources and money. However, Radhakrishnan was awarded scholarships throughout his academic life. He entered Madras Christian College at the age of 17 and graduated from there in 1906 with a Master's degree in Philosophy. His thesis for the M.A. degree was entitled "The Ethics of the Vedanta and its Metaphysical Presuppositions". The title shows the direction that his life would take and get its fulfilment.

Dr Radhakrishnan started his teaching career at the Department of Philosophy, Madras Presidency College in 1909. He went on to become Professor of Philosophy at the University of Mysore in 1918. His first book "The Philosophy of Rabindranath Tagore" was written during this period.

His second book, "The Reign of Religion in Contemporary Philosophy" was published in 1920 and the following year he was called to occupy the King George V Chair of Mental and Moral Sciences at the University of Calcutta.

In 1929 Radhakrishnan joined Harris Manchester College as Principal and started to deliver lectures to the students of Oxford on Comparative Religion. Radhakrishnan is considered to be a beacon light on comparative religion and is credited with building a bridge between the East and the West by showing that the philosophical systems of each tradition are comprehensible within the terms of the other. He was knighted in 1931. He became Vice chancellor of Andhra University in 1931. In 1936 Radhakrishnan was named Spalding Professor of Eastern Religion and Ethics at the University of Oxford. In 1939, Pt Madan Mohan Malviya invited him to succeed him as the Vice-Chancellor of Banaras Hindu University. He remained there till 1948. During 'Quit India movement', he did not allow the Police to enter the premises of the University.

Dr Radhakrishnan wrote extensively on Indian thought and tradition. Some of his famous books are : Indian Philosophy (1925), The Hindu view of Life (1926), Kalki: The Future of Civilisation (1929), Eastern Religions and Western Thought (1939), Religion and Society (1943), Bhagvat Gita and Religion, Science and Culture.

Dr Radhakrishnan believed that a teacher should be brilliant in cognitive power and its expression. He must be accessible to his students and must earn their respect. In the same way a student is one who works hard, is focused and dedicated. The idea of teacher-student relationship is largely derived from Kathopnishad.

As a philosopher- statesman Dr Radhakrishnan represented India at UNESCO from 1946-1952. He was a member of the Constituent Assembly and was elected India's first Vice-President in 1952. He served India in this capacity till 1962 and went on to become India's second President in 1962 for a term of five years.

Dr Radhakrishnan did not want his birthday to be celebrated as such. Rather he suggested that it i.e. 5th September of every year be celebrated as Teacher's day. His birthday has since been celebrated as Teacher's Day in India. He was elected the fellow of British Academy in 1938. He was awarded Bharat Ratna in 1954 and the Order of Merit in 1963. He received the Peace Prize of the German Book Trade in 1961 and the Templeton Prize in 1975, a few months before his death. He donated the entire amount of Templeton Prize to Oxford University. The University instituted the Radhakrishnan Scholarships in his memory in 1989 which has been renamed Radhakrishnan Chevening Scholarships.

Radhakrishnan was married at the age of 16 to Sivakami, a distant cousin. The couple had six children: 5 daughters and a son the famous historian Sarvapalli Gopal. Dr Radhakrishnan epitomised all the qualities of a philosopher king. He died on April 17, 1975 at Chennai.

Living A Life More Worthwhile Post Retirement

Ms. ITI Shukla, Psychologist & Psychotherapist.

The journey through one's retirement follows the same emotional pattern as it always has through his/her major life changes. It takes some time to adjust to your new life. All retirees need to consciously familiarize themselves with their new life post retirement. For efficient management, this transition can be broken down into 5 different stages, starting from pre-planning for retirement to being content and happy with the life you are living, as explained below.

Stage 1: Pre-retirement

Pre-retirement is the stage before you retire, which is usually about 5 to 10 years before you retire. Around this time many people begin to shift their focus from career progression to the aspect of financial planning for life after retirement.

Planning financially is an important part of retirement planning, but don't forget to plan emotionally for retirement. This is the time to start considering what you want from retirement and what you believe will make you feel happy and fulfilled.

This stage is full of excitement and anticipation for the next chapter in your life, but it can also be filled with worry and doubt – so spending some time planning financially and emotionally can make the transition into retirement a lot easier.

Stage 2: The Honeymoon Phase

The day has finally arrived, freedom! During this stage you may have feelings of excitement, liberation and relief from the stresses brought to you by the working world – these feelings often last for 1 to 2 years but can last for much longer depending on how you choose to spend your time. It's like going on a honeymoon.

Often your time is filled with reconnecting with friends, family, partners, indulging in hobbies and interests and going on holidays and just enjoying more freedom to do whatever you please.

Stage 3: Disenchantment

After the emotional high begins to wear off and the honeymoon phase is over, many people begin to feel disappointed and let down with their current life. Retirement is something that many of us look forward to and spend a lot of time hyping up, so once you've settled into retirement it can begin to feel like it's not as exciting as you once thought. Many people may be left feeling lonely, bored and feel like they've lost their sense of purpose.

Stage 4: Re-orientation & Finding Yourself

Just like any other stage of life, you eventually begin to adapt to your new circumstances and navigate your new life. This is the hardest part of retirement, as the process of re-finding your purpose and re-establishing who you are takes time and lots of conscious effort. Even though it can be tricky, this is one of the most rewarding and enjoyable stages of life. This is the time to try new things, find new hobbies and re-discover your purpose in life by just adding fun, interesting activities to your daily routine.

Stage 5: Stability

The final stage of a well-planned retirement can bring a sense of deep contentment, accompanied by positive feelings about a life worthwhile long after the retirement, which may feel like a new and rewarding life. You will find yourself settled into your new routine and lifestyle, doing just the things that you love, which make you feel totally fulfilled, as you keep enjoying your life with a new sense of purpose and identity.

Understanding & Effectively Coping with Post Retirement Issues

Despite the best of intentions, by the time you reach your mid-60s, you're likely to have experienced the deaths of loved ones or may be struggling with health issues yourself. Retirement can also put a strain on your marriage.

A 2003 study published by the Journal of Aging and Mental Health found that the most significant contributor to post retirement depression was a sense of loneliness. The losses that increase feelings of loneliness include:

- Loss of a spouse due to death.
- Adult children busy in their own lives or living too far away to visit often.
- Loss of workplace relationships.

How to Avoid Depression in Retirement?

The situational depression of retirement can be mitigated by consciously making the following intentional changes.

1. Keep working. Given the impact a change in work status causes, plan a gradual transition from full-time work to full-time retirement. You may consider the possibility of working part-time or you can take up volunteering for NGOs or social welfare groups.
2. Take special care of your physical health. Exercises can help ease depression by releasing feel-good endorphins and help you learn to deal with it in a healthier way.
3. Socialize. In addition to staying in touch with some of your former co-workers, check out all of the events in your community from social to cultural, use the social media, e.g. Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, etc. to stay connected with like-minded individuals and groups to look for meetings/get-togethers/conferences on topics that interest you.
4. Learn something new. Don't overlook the importance of exercising your mind. New brain cell growth is an ongoing process; learning something new stimulates it. Developing a new skill is most effective for cognitive well-being. It helps to stay away from dementia (a serious psycho-neuro problem caused by brain disease or injury, that affects the ability to think, remember and behave normally). So, keep learning something new-all the time.
5. Talk about your problems. If you're disappointed because retirement life isn't meeting your expectations, talk to someone. These feelings are very common. If, however, you think your feelings of depression are becoming severe, talk with a psychotherapist. Identifying and seeking help to resolve mental issues is a sign of mental health, not weakness.
6. Take charge of your retirement. While retirement can sometimes feel like an empty space, it can also be your chance to do what you've always wanted to do. Don't let the situational anxiety, stress or depression of retirement stand in your way. These could be the greatest years of your life, if you have the right spirit, understanding and a smart plan for it.
